Rules & Regulations

All exhibitors are expected to be familiar with all the Federation's Constitution, Rules and Regulations. Of particular importance for this show is the Show Ordinance and where applicable the Breed Ordinance, which is available on the official website. The following are especially important extracts from the Show Ordinance:

3.3 Courage Test

- a) Paragraph not applicable
- b) Bitches may be presented for the courage test in any order and may nominate a helper.
- c) The protection-work manager must ensure that dogs in all classes are divided into groups of 4 dogs as far as is possible.
- d) Official Helpers in the Male Protection Work Class may handle a maximum of three dogs in each group in that class, provided no disruptions in the proceedings occur as a result thereof.

3.3.1 Male dogs:

- a) Competitors who have entered more than one male dog should report to the administration of the show between 12h00 and 16h00 on the day before the courage test where they will be allowed to slot their dogs into timeslots that will allow the handlers sufficient time between the dogs they are handling. After 16h00, but before the draw of helpers, handlers may slot their dogs in the remaining available spaces on a first-come-first-served basis.
- b) Dogs to be handled by official helpers and the order in which they will be presented must be declared to the Administration between 14h00 and 16h00 on the day before the courage test.
- c) The order of the helpers will be drawn immediately before the courage test.
- d) If the draw leads to a situation where a dog will bite on a family member or a person who has a personal bond with the dog, the owner or handler may approach the Show Protection-work Manager who may change the order will slot the dog in at the end of the next group.

After the draw, the Protection Work Manager will slot dogs to be handled by official helpers into the schedule as follows:

- i. Starting with the dogs of the helpers in the order that each helper was drawn, each dog, in the order in which it was declared by the Helper concerned the day before, will be slotted in at the end of each of the next groups immediately following the group for which the helper was drawn with the following provisos:
- ii. that should a following group immediately precede the next group to be worked by the helper concerned, the dog will be slotted in at the end of the first earlier group that does not immediately precede a group the helper will be working.
- iii. Should there not be sufficient groups available following the last group a helper has drawn to work, the dog will, starting at the beginning of the schedule, be slotted into the first available group not preceding a group the helper is working.
- iv. If rescheduling results in groups larger than six dogs, the dog concerned will be slotted in at the end of the next available group numbering five or less dogs that does not immediately precede a group the helper will be working.
- v. Only if it is impossible to slot a dog in as above, will a dog be allowed to work at the end of the protection work.
- vi. The onus is on the Helper to ensure that he has enough assistance with his dogs to ensure smooth running of the system and dogs presented outside the determined order due to the fault of the Helper, will be disqualified.
- vii. No Helper will have any recourse against the Organisation should a dog handled by him fail for any reason whatsoever.
- viii. The organisers will keep a test dog available to be used in the event of the courage test process being halted for any reason in order to give every dog the same chance, namely to be able to see a dog biting before being presented for its courage test.

3.4 Critiques:

Verbal critiques at the National Show will be limited to an overall impression of the class and to the first few dogs as per the discretion of the judge. Written critiques on all dogs will be published by the Federation on the Federation's website.

5.2 Kennel Groups

- 5.2.4 A minimum of three and a maximum number of five dogs and/or bitches with the same Kennel Name and coat type may be entered per group.
- 5.2.5 All dogs exhibited must have received a minimum grading of at least "G" or "P" at the show.
- 5.2.7 The handlers of all dogs exhibited in a Kennel Group are obliged to wear the official catalogue number of those dogs.
- 5.2.8 Short stock haired dogs may not be shown in the same Kennel Group as long stock haired dogs.

5.3 Progeny Groups (groups are presented for exhibition purposes only)

- 5.3.2 The class must take place before the running of the Working Dog classes.
- 5.3.3 The administrator must inform each owner of a stud dog of which more than 6 progeny had been entered. The owner must then confirm within three days of having been informed thereto whether the group will be presented or not. Once confirmed, and with the exception specified in terms of paragraphs 5.3.4 and 5.3.5 below, it is compulsory that the group participates. If the group is withdrawn without good reason, the sire may be barred from further participation in the open class.
- 5.3.4 The owner of the sire has an obligation to ensure that as many of the dog's progeny as is possible are presented for the class. If less than six (6) progeny are present, the group will not be allowed to be presented.
- 5.3.5 Dogs with less than six (6) progeny over the age of 12 months, but six or more progeny entered in the show, may withdraw provided that the show manager is informed thereof at least one hour before the scheduled start of the class.
- 5.3.6 The show-holding organization must include all sires of which six or more progeny has been entered, and of which the group has been confirmed as entries in the catalogue. If a sire so entered was not entered as an individual dog and does not participate in the open class, no entry fee shall be payable.
- 5.3.7 All the progeny of an eligible sire presented at a show which are over 12 months of age must be present for the running of the class. Participation of puppies under the age of twelve months is voluntary, their entry decided upon by the owner of the sire.
- 5.3.8 Progeny entered, but not presented, in the show may not be included in the group.
- 5.3.9 The handlers of all dogs exhibited in a progeny group are obliged to wear the official catalogue number of those dogs they are handling.
- 5.3.10 Once presented in a group, a dog may only be withdrawn from classes that may be held after the group class upon presentation of a valid veterinary certificate or with the permission of the Show Manager.

- 5.5.4 The highest grading that will be awarded for these classes will be the V grading.
- 5.5.5 Dogs and bitches entered in these classes are subjected to all the requirements for entry into the progeny groups.
- 5.5.6 Where dogs and bitches entered in these classes are presented in a Kennel Group, they will receive the same weighting as dogs from the younger classes.
- 5.5.7 The Judges Directives pertaining to Local and Provincial shows will apply in these classes where applicable.
- 5.5.8 Dogs and bitches over the age of two that are not classified "Courage Pronounced" in the protection work have the option to transfer to the Classes without protection work provided the option is exercised and the Show Administration has been notified before the end of the individuals of their original classes.
